

THIS CHRISTMAS MORNING, MILLIONS OF FAMILIES IN SOUTH EAST ASIA WILL WAKE UP TO TOTAL DEVASTATION. THE PLACE THEY CALL HOME NO LONGER EXISTS.

Dear xxxxxxxx

Christmas is the time of year when we love being in the comfort of our own home. But for millions of families around the world, this is just not possible. They are facing complete destruction: homes and lives have been shattered by cyclones of up to 125 mph.

The need is urgent. Will you help these vulnerable families this Christmas to build a decent home?

With your help, we can step in and build new homes strong enough to withstand future storms.

If we don't intervene, these families will be and exposed to the next disaster. Their livelihoods have often been washed...

Overnight destruction caused by Cyclone Phailin in India this year: more than one million people have lost their homes and businesses.
